Cats VS Dogs

I think that dogs are heaps better than cats and once you have read this you will think the same. Dogs are better better than cats because ...

Dogs are a excellent companions I say this because dogs can be played with but if you tried to play soccer with a cat would be terrified of the ball and run off.

Dogs have saved lives and some dogs have jobs to do like the 2 dogs I have have were they come from they are sheepdogs up in the french and swiss alps and in the mountains they use MASSIVE dogs like a bernese mountain dogs to save lives, I read about a dog that actually got medals for saving lives and you can look anywhere but you won't find a record of a cat saving lives or having any jobs to help people.

Dogs can be trained to be clever for example my puppy Elfie can push open a door with her paw and then when she is outside she grabs the door with her teeth and pushes it closed I bet that you won't find a cat that can do that.

Finally cats leave fur balls everywhere honestly would you like balls of regurgitated fur left around your house ? no I don't think you would .

So obviously after reading this you can tell that dogs are better than cats .

Kids should be allowed pets in school because pets are something to cuddle to then we are sad because a pet is like our brother or sister.

The girls can have fashion shows or a cat walk (haha). Plus boys can teach their pets tricks like backflips and frontflips and free running. It would be awesome.

They should also be allowed pets at school because if you didn't have any friends to play with or you didn't even have any friends you could just play with your pets all lunch and morning tea also.

It can be bad in a few ways like if you had a cat or dog at school they might fight or get angry at each other but i do have a solution for that if you decided who would bring their pet to school because you could only have one pet in the class at a time. You see if you only brought one pet to class at a time you could keep your pet in the classroom without interfering all the other cats and dogs etc.

I would love my cat shady to come to school because i have so much good times with him and if he would be allowed to come to school i could have so many more good times.

I would also want my cat at school because he would have so much fun jumping around the classroom and i wouldn't miss him as much because he would come to school. He might not come to school all the time because we would be having turns but at least i got to see him more often and that's why i would want my cat to come to school.

Dear Mr Farrelly

Could you please give our classroom a heat pump. These are my reasons why you should give us one.

In the morning everyone comes to school in beanies, gloves, scarves, thermals and even tights.

Then in the afternoon when it gets hot we get too hot. But if we just had a heat pump we could just turn it off when it gets too hot.

Also in the morning when we do writing we get so cold our hands start shaking and then we can't do our writing neat. Also we get sidetracked about how cold we are.

My final reason is our heater is tiny and it only makes the person who is sitting there warm actually not warm BOILING and everybody else is shivering, shaking and freezing.

Most people from our class probably come from a warm house or car.

From Orla room 14.

Kids should have less homework

Kids should have less homework because I think that if you have more homework and you are out all week you would not have time to do your homework.

If we have less homework you can have more time to do your homework so you can finish it and bring it on time.

School is for doing work and home is really for chilling not for really doing work.

My fourth reason is you must have maths and spelling instead of homework.

So that is why i should have less homework.

To Mrs Ollivier,

Thank you so much for stitching our cushions. They are really comfy. Firstly, They're great because nobody fights over who does and doesn't get to sit on one because we all have our own.

Having our cushions makes sitting on the floor a LOT more pleasant (Especially when we listen to our class reading book)!

Lastly, the cushions are useful for using on our chairs as well as the floor.

We might be going to Taupo this year, and I'm definitely going to take my cushion with me!

Thanks,

Kate

Dear Mr Farrelly

Dear Mr Farrelly

I am very mad because you have not been thinking about room 14. Do you know what i'm talking about, not having a "HEAT PUMP".

Now you're thinking I'm not getting your class a heat pump because you've got a heater. i will tell you four reasons why we need a heat pump

Firstly the heater i only heats one person and i'm not the person Grrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrr. But what we really need is a heat pump to heat all of room 14 to make us happy and healthy.

Next the library has two heat pumps and instead of giving the library two heat pumps we can both get a heat pump, then room 14 will be happy and the library will also be happy.

So how can we think about work when all we can think about is the annoying cold-ness of or class.

Well do you really want us to be sick because we're so cold,maybe we will all get sick and that would be bad.

So i hope you think about this very hard and that you will agree.

Dear Mr Wastson

If you have an extra return ticket to America for two weeks I would love to go.

These are my reasons to you from me.

My first reason is I have traveled before so it would be easy to take me around with you which is easier for everyone. Am I right?

My seconded reason is that I have been to a couple forest detention already. Do you want to spend lots and lots of money on fuel?

My next reason is I have not been away from my family that long so it would be a good experience for me and good experiences are good for a lot of things like when I go away to uni it won't be such a gigantic step.

My last reason is that it would be a very good learnig exsperons for me and the more knolage you have the better you do in school.

Thats my tottaly awesome reasons why you should choose me.

From the most eager to win sudent Carmen.

Dear Mr Farrelly

I want to persuade you to lend us a heat pump for ever or maybe that would be giving us one anyhow back to the subject of our need for a heat pump.

We need a new heat pump because our one we have now is so small and crummy (and it is about as small as a crumb) it has two ant size vents and two knobs that you have to bend down to make it hotter or colder.

When i get dressed in the morning i put on a couple more layers then last year.

With no heat pump its a health hazard. We come into the classroom and its freezing then you go to morning tea and come back into the classroom and your hot from running around and its cold and thats how you get sick.

If the school doesn't have enough money to buy an heat pump me and Laura and some others have come with their ideas to have a bake sale raise money for our heat pump that's how desperate we are!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

From Jacob

Dear Mr Farrelly,

We seriously need a heat pump!!!!!!!!!!!!!! we need a heat pump because when we come into class it is freezing.

When we are home it is warm and cozy but at school it is not cozy.

If you did not give us a heat pump we would be sick and that will be part your fault because you have not given us a heat pump. Then we go outside we will be even colder, we definatly need a heat pump for a lot of reasons.

Room 14 are not very happy about this because all of the other classes do and the library even has 2. The library and the, other classes are lucky and we are prety much poor, why do "I say prety is because that we have a useless heater in our class and compared to the others they are nice and warm".

To be honest we are feeling a bit sad because we are cold. WE are begging for a heat pump, hope you get us a heat pump. We beg you for one it would be a honor to one.
